ABSTRACT

This bibliography contains extensive listings of publications relevant to the broad topic of local government. Citations are organized into separate sections dealing with local government modernization and reform, local government administration and training, structure of local government, county government form and administration, metropolitan and regional governance, specific state reports on local and county government, local and county government in Pennsylvania, and state responsibility to local governments. Publications cited in the section on specific state reports on local and county government are listed by state, while entries in all other sections are listed alphabetically by author's name. A brief final section lists a variety of useful periodicals in the field. A subtopic cross-reference facilitates movement between the various sections. (JG)
